

BEING A FULL-SERVICE DESIGNER MEANS...

We can provide all your event décor services: stage design, foyer enhancements, favor and dessert presentations, table accessories, linens, dance floor wraps, ceiling treatments, floral, and lighting.

We build a relationship with you through curiosity, where we get to know you personally as well as your vision for your event. This looks like consistently and transparently communicating with you throughout the process.

Through renderings, floor plans, mood boards, past event pictures, in-person and virtual meetings, and invitations to see our live events, we help you gain trust in what we promise is possible for your vision. You can see what we provide and will be able to know what your event will look like before it takes place.

This is also important because:

It allows our internal process to remain efficient. This means that we're able to keep our team aware of all of the elements of your décor at all times. This supports a more creative internal environment, which ultimately supports the end result.

We avoid miscommunication between us, you, and vendors outside of our team, which can lead to mishaps such as lighting that's too dark to properly highlight your décor, having an item that ends up being provided both by us and another vendor (and being charged for both!), or a décor item being provided that does not match the rest of the décor in the room.

We are better able to guide you in making decisions that fully benefit the outcome of your event.

Because of this, we require that our clients source all their decor and lighting needs through us.

As an incentive, we offer a 3-5% discount when all of our services are implemented.
